Exhaust Fume Hoods for Military Vehicles

...an ideal solution

The dangers of breathing in heavy diesel fumes produced by large engines when maintaining and servicing are all too obvious.

Working closely with our MoD Partners, FUMEX Ltd have developed a range of custom designed, hand crafted exhaust fume hoods for military vehicles.

All our exhaust fume hoods are manufactured by us in the UK, in high quality galvanised steel, ensuring they perform to their maximum efficiency.

Depending on the vehicle, the hood can also include a secondary inlet for ancillary engine exhaust fume capture.

If you require a special one-off design or a modification to one of our standard hoods, we can easily accommodate this for you.

FUMEX Ltd can provide a cost effective range of exhaust extraction systems, high temperature hoses, fans, exhaust hoods and nozzles for use with military vehicles.

Please call or email for further details.
